Star of the week!

Star of the week:

Harry and Alfie

For developing a marvellous love for books in the past two weeks and for developing your all-round reading skills
Keep it up 😊

Dear Parents,

This week we were lucky to work with Mrs Cooke who has been giving us some marvellous ideas on reading for pleasure and the benefits that they bring to children. As a result, in class we have been enjoying exploring our 'favourite five' books and making sure that we are reading everyday. The children have enjoyed learning about new authors and finding books by similar writers. It has been wonderful to see the children continue to build a love of reading within themselves as they begin to talk about the books that they are reading.

In Science, we are continuing to explore life cycles of different living things and how they may differ from each other. We looked at some scientific key words, such as mammal, amphibian, reptile, and discussed the appearances, habits and the environment that is best suited for each living thing. We will be exploring plans in the next two lessons and will link our understanding of them to what we have learnt so far.

Miss Cleverly also payed us a lovely visit on Tuesday and the children had a chance to catch up with her about their amazing learning so far in their year groups. In R.E, the children continue to focus on the origins of the world by looking at the different views in the world- religious and non-religious, including their own.

Last but not least, we have designed our cereal bars, which we will be making in the coming weeks:

REMINDERS:

Please make sure that all children bring in a water bottle each day to ensure that they keep hydrated. Children should also have coats, preferably waterproof, at all times to keep dry and warm in these winter months. All snacks should be healthy. This includes fruit, yogurt, vegetables and healthy snack bars.

Kind regards
Mrs Babbage

A note from Mrs Secker:

Another fabulous week filled with exciting learning. This week we have felt the power of the Trust as Miss Massey worked across both Dunsford and ASM with the support of a subject lead from Warberry Academy to delve deep into our History curriculum. These opportunities help us to ensure teaching and learning continues to be robust and offer suitable challenge. We also welcomed Miss Cleverly, our Trust Lead to school and it was a pleasure to show her how our classroom environments are developing to really be '3rd' adult to support children's learning.

Over the coming weeks we have some exciting 'reading for pleasure' activities planned that we will be sharing with you all soon.

Have a wonderful weekend.
